UNEMPLOYMENT GROWING BUT SITUATION IS NOT ALARMING

Thousands of Men Have Been Laid Off in Middle West,
Reports Show.

AUTO CITIES HARDEST HIT

Many Men Are Idle in Detroit and Indianapolis—Over Supply in North.

(By J. L. O'Sullivan)
By United Press Leased Wire

Chicago—Barometers of labor in the mid-west today showed little indication of any extensive slump in the demand for workers.

While industries in some spots have slowed down, laying off a large number of men—automobile manufacturers being the outstanding example—the majority of employers of labor on a large scale are showing few signs of a let down.

A survey of labor conditions in the mid-west conducted by the United Press showed that while a surplus of labor was now reported in practically every city, in only one or two places was it abnormal compared with previous normal conditions.

This surplus has been created by a slowing up in a few industries only. The auto plants of the mid-west have laid off thousands of men; the garment makers are going through a critical period with approximately 50 per cent of the demand for labor as during the war; the leather plants have slackened their speed. Practically all lines of work which are now slowing down are the ones which developed the greatest surplus during the war boom. In the oil fields of the south-west, which enjoyed a mushroom growth during the last few years, the demand for labor is slackening. Five hundred unemployed were reported by the Oklahoma state employment office in Tulsa—the first time in years there have been more men than jobs.

The great industries of steel, machinery, packing and in most instances, railroads, have yet failed to show an alarming slackening in the demand for men.

In Gary, Ind., the heart of the steel industry of the mid-west, a large sign over the American Bridge company's works reads: "Men Wanted."

Approximately the same number of men are now employed in the steel plants of the mid-west as during war times.

John Glenn, secretary of the Illinois Manufacturers' association, told the United Press that while there is some unemployment, it is very slight. Some of this is due to the fact that many plants are now taking their yearly inventory, Glenn said.

The Illinois free employment agency said it was able to find work for most of its applicants.

Savings banks reported that workers were not drawing on their bank accounts as would be expected in case there was considerable unemployment.

Robert M. Buck, editor of a leading labor paper, of Chicago, said that outside of the textile and shoe industries there was little unemployment in the city.

In the Chicago district, the only lines which have laid off men to any extent are the builders, garment makers and in the leather trades. Approximately 10,000 men were laid off by the packers last spring but no recent reductions in forces have been made.

Whenever unemployment is mentioned in the mid-west these days, the ordinary person thinks of Detroit where the auto manufacturers have drawn in their horns, extended during the war. Seventy-five thousand men were laid off there according to estimates by George W. Grant, secretary of the employers' association. About 40,000 of this number still remain in the city and are idle, while the others have left. In addition, 100,000 other men are working short hours and losing at least one day a week, Grant estimated.

In Indianapolis where the auto industry is of considerable importance, A. J. Allen, secretary of the associated employers, said the present unemployment was not great because of the wide diversity of industry. Men who have been laid off by the auto companies, were able to pick up other jobs. Railroads cut down their forces considerably in Indianapolis.

Due to slackening of the leather industry in St. Louis that city has a large number of men out of work. Employment offices are unable to supply the demand for jobs.

The entire southwest has an over supply of laborers, but the number out of work is small, compared with average times before the war. Farmers in Kansas are looking for corn huskers. Ending of the harvest in the north has resulted in many men looking for work. With the slowing down of the oil industry, other dependent concerns were also forced to cut their forces.

The northwest has an over supply of labor. A. C. Sorenson of the state and federal employment agency, said about 800 men were being turned away each week without jobs. However, Roy Hillen, of the industrial division of the St. Paul association, said that only a few factories in the Twin Cities have reduced their forces. The flood of applications for jobs was attributed to the cold weather driving men from the farms and small cities to the larger centers of population.

Closing of Textile Mills Causes
Some Unemployment in Eastern Cities.

IMMIGRANTS TAKE JOBS

Eastern Business Men Confident That Situation Will Right Itself.

(By Hugh Baillie)
By United Press Leased Wire

New York—Improvement in unemployment conditions in the east is expected in some quarters by January, according to Dr. David A. Flynn, director of the New York state employment bureau.

He said today that many employers had assured him the situation would be stabilized by that time. Just at present, according to representatives in several eastern cities there is a labor surplus in some lines and this surplus is increasing.

Flynn said he did not regard the situation as serious except possibly in the textile and garment workers' New York City. In many other lines, particularly building and farming there is an undersupply of labor, according to his information.

Better conditions by the first of the year were forecast also by R. Sandowsky, biggest manufacturer of cloaks and suits in New York. He said the whole situation looked back to the time when there was a cry of under-production and general shortage.

Retailers then began stocking up with high priced goods, many increasing stocks as much as 200 per cent. They are now in a position where they must get rid of this surplus and they have asked manufacturers to wait until they do this, Sandowsky said. He declared they expect to accomplish this by February 1, when retailers will place new orders and manufacturers will resume full operation.

A survey of unemployment conditions in the east indicated that there were most severe in New York, in the garment trade which employs thousands and in some parts of New England where textile mills are affected.

G. H. Dunwoode, superintendent of the Massachusetts state public employment department, Boston, said the chief causes of unemployment in the city were the shutdowns and curtailments in the boot and shoe and textile plants.

The unemployment in the Philadelphia district is believed due in part to immigration.

There is an under supply of certain lines of skilled workers such as chefs and mechanics but an over supply of unskilled laborers.

Employment agents in Pittsburgh stated there was a demand for unskilled labor—of which there is a surplus in Philadelphia—to clear warehouses of huge stocks amassed during the war.

A migration of workers to the south has caused a labor surplus there.

A. Marcus, safety engineer of the Atlanta Steel company, Atlanta, Ga., said they were turning away many men daily who arrived for work.

London.—"Tommy Atkins" was canonized by Great Britain today when she buried the remains of an unknown soldier among her illustrious dead in Westminster Abbey.

The soldier, name and regiment unknown, was buried with the highest funeral honors paid Britain's great fighting men. King George was chief mourner. Army officers of the highest rank were pall bearers and the highest officers of the church assigned the warrior's body to its final rest.

In addition the entire empire sent representatives to attend the services and thousands upon thousands massed in the streets to glimpse the plain oak casket, swaying on its caisson as it proceeded from railway station to Abbey.

Not satisfied with this glimpse, thousands waited for conclusion of the ceremony that they might visit the newly unveiled cenotaph, recording the honors paid the unknown.

Tendency in West Is Toward

CONDITION IS FAIRLY GOOD

Industrial Leaders Declare That Situation Will Improve Soon.

(By M. D. Tracy)
By United Press Leased Wire

San Francisco, Cal.—Trend of the Pacific coast labor market toward a condition of "more men than jobs" was noted today by both employers and employees.

At the same time the employers in particular and in several cases labor leaders emphasized a belief that the situation was not alarming.

Some attributed the condition to the election, the shortage of ships on the Pacific coast, the railway car shortage now said to be ending, and the freight rate increases granted the railroads recently.

Others laid it at the door of "general business conditions."

"The situation, as I see it, is not yet alarming on this coast," said Paul Schaenberger, secretary of the California state federation of labor, "but for the future—the winter perhaps—it looks serious."

As to the cause, you can read it on the financial page of any newspaper.

R. J. Clancy, assistant to the general manager of the Southern Pacific railway, in charge of employment for that company, declared that "if we keep an even keel," there isn't anything to fear.

"There is a gradual easing up of the labor market," Clancy declared.

"By easing up, I mean a condition where there are more men looking for jobs than there are jobs. It is, I believe, due more to seasonal conditions than to anything else."

Conditions on this coast are much different than they are in the east. Here we have a variety of industries—agriculture, fruit, lumber, mines and many things. The east is dependent largely on manufacturing alone. Foreign trade conditions might affect the east and cause a situation there which would not be reflected on this coast.

"I fail to see anything serious ahead if we keep right on—maintaining an even keel."

E. L. Meyers, secretary of the Los Angeles labor council, charged big industries there are creating an artificial condition of unemployment as a means of reducing wages.

"Labor's only remedy for unemployment," Meyers declared, "is to reduce hours. With shorter hours everyone will be able to work, but, of course, wages would be lower."

CHICAGO POLICE HUNT
FARMER'S PRETTY WIFE

By United Press Leased Wire

Chicago—Police today were asked to try young wife of a farmer living near Pontiac, Mich., who came to Chicago recently to have her eyes treated by physicians.

Mrs. Van Boxel disappeared on Tuesday, her sister, Mrs. Percy Mahoney, notified police.

Mrs. Mahoney turned over to police a letter which she had received from a man with whom Mrs. Van Boxel had become acquainted, demanding money.

Authorities believed the man was holding Mrs. Van Boxel a prisoner or was demanding blackmail. The name of the man was in possession of the police, but they refused to make it public.

MEMORIAL TO COUNTY HEROES IS URGED HERE

Proposed Community Building
May Honor Veterans of World War.

MEETS WITH MUCH FAVOR

Rural Affairs Committee of Commerce Chamber Works on New Plan.

(By M. D. Tracy)
By United Press Leased Wire

Wanting at first only a rest room and parcel checking booth for out-of-town shoppers who came to Appleton, the rural affairs committee of the chamber of commerce has conceived the idea that Outagamie county ought to honor its heroes of the world war, both living and dead, with a lasting memorial in the form of a community building.

Definite steps to accomplish this are already under way.

Appleton is compelled by law to provide public comfort stations. The rural affairs committee felt that here was a beginning from which to provide suitable downtown headquarters for shoppers as a stimulus to trade.

The office of the chamber of commerce could be located in the same building, using the rental revenue to help pay for a public rest room.

It was found by the committee that other civic organizations were also renting office quarters in various buildings. The most feasible plan evolved from this situation was to provide a building where each could establish its offices. The combined rentals would pay for its maintenance and upkeep and all community activities would be housed under one roof.

The committee has consulted with the Red Cross, the Appleton Woman's club, Boy Scouts and the Oneida National bank, of the American Legion. Each favored the plan and estimates have been secured as to the amount of space and facilities needed.

In its request for material from other cities that have provided community buildings, the committee found that a large number were war memorials. Its members realized that Outagamie county had nothing of the sort, and that a fitting memorial would be a lasting reminder of the war.

Knowing that the American Legion post was seeking suitable quarters and would heartily welcome the plan, the committee has agreed to donate the building to the American Legion, and to give Outagamie county the community memorial building.

The War Camp Community Service, New York, has followed the memorial building idea quite closely and has collected a mass of valuable data. It has found that 500 cities and towns in the United States have already erected community buildings and that more than 1,000 additional places are considering the matter now. Invariably they are community houses for welfare organizations, and are provided for the people of the entire community.

The United States department of agriculture has also studied the movement for community buildings. A bulletin has been issued covering a study of 256 such buildings. It contains a chart showing that the number of community buildings grew from less than 20 in 1900 to 250 in 1918. Many are in towns of less than 2,500. The cost varies according to the size of the structure. Various kinds are described, and full descriptions of typical ones are given, with photographs.

The Appleton building, would not be in many others, such as an auditorium, stage, gymnasium, baths and other club features. These are all provided in other buildings and would only be a duplication. It is emphasized by other cities where there are community buildings that they must be planned for service, otherwise they will not succeed. The civic needs must be studied before plans are made.

It is the belief of the rural affairs committee that any proposed building should house the offices of the chamber of commerce, the Woman's club, boy scouts, Red Cross and the American Legion post. There may be other Appleton organizations that may also be considered, but only the above have been consulted as far as plans. Some say the day is not far distant when there will be a farm bureau here, which could properly be in the same building.

The rest room would also be an important factor. It would give the families living in the country or in other towns a place to go after they have done their shopping. Parcel checking facilities would be provided free of charge. Lavatories would be provided for the men and women, and there would probably be a smoking and lounging room for the men separate from the women's quarters.

It has been ventured that the city council might be willing to consider a share in the cost of building, using the funds that would otherwise be appropriated to a comfort station to comply with the state health law. Many plans for securing the balance have been suggested. It is believed that the revenue received from the organizations using it would pay for the upkeep, making the cost of the building the only financial burden.

"I believe a memorial building would be a splendid thing for Outagamie county to provide," stated Homer H. Benton, commander of the Oneida National post of the American Legion, when asked about the matter. "I am sure the members of the Legion post would be more than pleased if this was done. It ought to be provided by the whole county. I hope the movement will succeed."

RESULT OF LABOR STRIFE

Article States Explosion Was Designed to Ruin House
Wrecking Job.

By United Press Leased Wire

New York—The New York Evening World, today under the headline "Wall Street Explosion Solved," declared that the explosion was the result of a revolt of union house workers against Robert P. Brindell, head of the labor union, and house wrecking contractors. The World's declaration was based on an independent investigation of the explosion.

The article said: "The Evening World here presents proof that 1,500 men, nearly all foreign born, sober, industrious, efficient and well disciplined—house-wreckers local No. 54, known recently also as the 'Polish union,' have within a space of 18 months been subjected to an amazing conspiracy of greed and injury, and the explosion was the culmination of this tyranny."

"The building trades graft was responsible for the crime," The Evening World does not charge the union, as a union, with responsibility. It was the work of individuals, possibly inside the union, possibly the work of sympathizers."

The paper stated the bomb which exploded in Wall street and killed more than 30 persons, was designed to explode close to a house wrecking job being conducted near the Morgan offices by Albert A. Volk and company, contractors.

A foreman on the Volk job was said to be a protégé of Robert H. Brindell, of the building trades council. This foreman was James Reilly, according to the World, which said, "Brindell got Reilly employment under Volk and Reilly therefore became a member of the inspection and entertainment committee charged with responsibility with driving all members of the old house wreckers' union out of the trade."

The building trades council controlled by Brindell is now under investigation by the Lockwood legislative committee which is looking into reports that Brindell, through his organization, forced workers to pay him tribute before they could hold jobs in New York.

U. S. To Take Up Probe
Washington—The department of justice will at once begin an investigation of the story that a feud among New York union house wreckers was back of the Wall street bomb explosion, it was announced today.

An announcement was made by Robert Scott, secretary to attorney General Palmer, after he was informed that the New York World had published the results of an independent investigation of the explosion.

Scott confessed that the department had no information such as that published by the World but declared that the paper would be asked for the information in its possession. Department operatives will then go to work on the basis of this information.

The department has been working on the bomb explosion since it occurred but it has proceeded for the most part on the theory that the explosion was the work of radicals.

Berlin—German workers seized a metal factory here today and extinguished the fires. Two other factories were invaded simultaneously.

Police surrounded the metal factories, planning an attack to dislodge the strikers.

Other workers took possession of a gas plant on the north side of Berlin establishing a soviet there, police reported.

The seizure of the metal factory was evidently carried out by the workers in emulation of the Italian strikers who captured and held plants in Italy during the recent labor disturbance there.

This was the first instance of anything of the kind in Germany and the government immediately rushed measures for meeting the new menace.

Police reserves and detachments of troops were held in readiness for action in event that the metal factories should result in fighting, or develop into another Spartacist outbreak.

A general strike is a scheme long planned by radical workers who got a foothold when electrical workers walked out, demolishing transportation and industries dependent upon electrical power and light.

The government interposed with an ultimatum that electrical plants will not be operated by the government if the men did not return at once.

To carry out this project here a score of students and ex-cons were mobilized with a view to crushing the strike. The government ultimatum expired last night and the government was to begin operation of the plants today.

Apparently seeing defeat of their original plans, the radical leaders hastened to appropriate action. The metal workers were used to taking possession of some factories. The men assumed control of the buildings, barring the owners and executives. No attempt was made to operate as in Italy, but fires were damped and production ceased.

The establishment of a soviet in the north side gas plant was the first radical move of disorganized workers to overthrow the government. The soviet, Symonowich, with two Poles in government have been active in Germany and have urged adoption of the system here. The strength of this faction was shown at the socialist convention in Halle last month when the party was split.

Youthful Teller Fails to Get

Ottawa, Ill.—Indignant police and bank officials today sought Francis J. Carey, youthful thief for the National City bank here.

While the technicality on which they wanted Carey taken into custody was a charge that he attempted to make away with $60,000 in cash, what they really want Carey for is to vent their feelings.

Just last night a man phoned the president of the bank and said he had picked up $60,000 in cash was dropped by a man he had seen running through an alley.

A hurried trip was made to the bank and money was found strewn around the floor before the man. The time clock had been set for 48 hours as today is a holiday—Armistice Day.

Believing that burglars had robbed the vault and then locked Carey in it, an appeal was made to the warden of the state prison at Joliet for yeg-men to open the vault. The warden said none of his men could "valentine" the lock. Chicago police were appealed to and a special train, carrying police, yegmen and firemen was rushed here.

By the time they arrived, however, two garage employees had burned a hole through the $5,000 vault door with acetylene torches only to find the vault empty. Carey is still missing.

Washington.—Organized workers will strike instantly at the first attempt of any employer to cut wages in a union shop in violation of existing contracts. Vice-President James Duncan, of the American Federation of Labor, warned here today upon leaving the opening session of the federation's executive council.

"The American Federation of Labor will back them up," Vice-President Matthew Woll added.

Most union men are working under agreements with employers which still have several months to run, according to Duncan.

No employer of union men can reduce wages, he said, without repudiating existing agreements.

"You hear a lot of talk about the employers organizing to establish the non-union shop," said Duncan. "They tried this five years ago. When they got through organized labor had 1,000,000 new members."

The session of the executive council which began today may continue a week. The council must plan a legislative program and intends to march the forces of organized labor in the expected clash throughout the country between workers and employers over wage questions. In addition there is a multitude of jurisdictional disputes to be laid before the council.

Bodies of Twelve Americans,
Brought Over From France,
Buried in Arlington.

By United Press Leased Wire

Washington—The sad notes of taps rang out over the Potomac today as the bodies of 12 American soldiers, brought home from France, were interred in Arlington cemetery, where the remains of the "boys in blue" and "boys in khaki" rest beside those of the "boys in gray."

The Virginia hillside was crowded with spectators who stood with bowed heads as this solemn scene in the commemoration of Armistice Day was enacted, in sight of the nation's capital.

Throughout the country there were mass meetings and reunions in commemoration of the day the Germans surrendered. At many places, members of historic divisions gathered and conducted sham battles with trenches and wire entanglements and the noise of war.

Armistice Day, said Gen. Pershing in a statement, will come to mean to the civilized world what Independence Day means to the United States.

Gen. March, chief of staff, said: "We turn our thoughts from the strife of politics, from the urge of business to acclaim our army of the world war."

"Our eyes should turn toward France," said Secretary Baker, "to ward that hallowed ground that covers the bodies of America's dead."

Secretary Daniels made the second anniversary of the belated distribution today of 2,264 naval decorations to members of the navy and marine corps who served in the world war.

The naval awards have been sent to commanding officers of all ships stations and posts and were being presented today with simple ceremonies. Daniels' announcement of the awards recalled the famous controversy of a year ago between Daniels and Admiral Sims, commander of the American forces in Europe during the war.

This controversy which started when Sims refused his reward and charged that Daniels had shown favoritism in distribution of orders, finally led to a congressional investigation of the navy's conduct of the war.

DOPE FIENDS FIND NEW WAY TO "STEADY" NERVES

Chicago—Dope fiends are now crossing the aesthetic threshold into the wild delights of fancy by the use of talcum powder and pulverized aspirin tablets, according to W. S. Stanley, investigator, who revealed to the United Press today the result of his delvings into the drug traffic.

"It is almost impossible—thanks to the strict government regulations—to get pure cocaine," said Stanley. "The little that is being peddled now is mixed with talcum powder."

Stanley said that many drug addicts are now using it. Its effect, according to Stanley, is about the same as cocaine but much more injurious to the nervous system.

"Those who used to chew opium," said Stanley, "are now chewing the sediment that collects in pipes. The sediment is almost pure cocaine and has the same effect as opium."

FORUM SPEAKER IS PLUMB PLAN FRIEND

Carl Thompson to Speak at Lawrence Memorial Chapel Sunday Night.

In line with the policy of the Appleton Public Forum to present both sides of any controversial question, arrangements have been completed to have Carl Thompson, Chicago, one of the most prominent labor leaders in the country, present "the other side" of the railroad question at Lawrence Memorial chapel Sunday evening. Last Sunday evening Congressman John J. Esch, La Crosse, author of the Esch-Cummins bill, presented his interpretation of the railroad situation and the present law, while next Sunday Mr. Thompson will discuss the Plumb plan and the railroad workers' view of railroad conditions.

Mr. Thompson is an officer of the Plumb Plan League, an organization which is devoting its efforts to securing adoption of the plan formulated by Glenn E. Plumb, who spoke here a few years ago. The Plumb Plan League is said to have more than 200,000 members, mostly recruited from the railroad brotherhoods. The popular conception of the Plumb plan is to have the government buy the railroads and then turn them over to employees for operation, placing the administration of the roads in the hands of a committee representing the public, the workers and the government.

9 DENIED RIGHT TO BE CITIZENS

Claiming Exemption From War Service Destroys Hopes for Citizenship.

Thirty-five applicants were admitted to citizenship at the hearing on petitions for naturalization before Judge E. V. Werner in circuit court Thursday morning. Nine were denied citizenship on account of having claimed exemption during the war, and three were denied citizenship on account of non-prosecution. Each applicant admitted to citizenship was presented with a small silk flag by eight members of the Woman's Relief corps.

RED CROSS DRIVE IS OPENED TODAY

Solicitors for Membership Will Not Call at Stores or Factories.

The 1921 Red Cross roll call opened on Thursday. Workers received final instructions from ward, group or township leaders and started a canvass which will take them to every home in the county. Some people have failed to grasp the plan of solicitation according to Mrs. R. W. Wells, roll call chairman. The chapter has decided that only the homes will be visited. No solicitors will be sent to any factory, mill, office or store, as it is the desire of the workers to save employers from annoyance.

Tractorized Farming

No longer is a farm considered modern unless its equipment includes one or more tractors.
During the development of the tractor industry farmers have learned that only a high-class, efficient tractor with all working parts entirely enclosed, proves a profitable investment.
The UNCLE SAM JR. was born in the mind of the farmer who knew the record of the Uncle Sam 20-30 for efficiency, economy, power and low upkeep but who did not require as large a tractor.
While smaller, the Uncle Sam Jr. inherits all the qualities which have popularized the Uncle Sam.
Tractor authorities who have seen the Uncle Sam Jr. say that it is far ahead of any other small tractor and assert it will surely set a new standard in the 2-3 ploy class.
Standard equipment includes belt pulley, governor, fenders, platform, in fact everything that a real tractor should have.
We are now booking orders for spring delivery. Circulars upon request.

BUSINESS AND POLITICS

Signs are increasingly evident that the industrial situation is far from satisfactory. In some of the manufacturing centers it is serious, with large numbers of men out of work and facing the prospect of continued unemployment with the approach of winter. The country does not want widespread industrial depression. It is the common interest of all labor, producer, merchant and consumer, to have business good and general conditions prosperous.

The public is inclined to place too much emphasis on political prosperity. There is a tendency among many persons to believe that this or that administration of the government will of itself bring good times, and that administration by another party is certain to produce bad times. Politics does not create prosperity, never did and never will. The panics the United States has encountered and the periods of profound business depression were fundamentally due to economic causes.

It is true that we have at times set up instruments of government, like our protracted and unwise experiments in banking and finance, which operated to cause panics, but no political government under those systems could have prevented what occurred. The tariff was supposed for many years to be a magic wand of prosperity, but whatever effects it had in this direction were as often nullified by extremes which brought about unhealthy reactions. A credulous and partisan public has been far too inclined to deposit its faith in prosperity in the ballot box and let it rest there.

If it were true that political government of itself created prosperity the Democratic administration should have been retained in power, for the country has never enjoyed greater prosperity than during the last seven years. Similarly, if the Republican party could of itself yield prosperity the disquieting signs recently appearing here and there ought to instantly vanish on the announcement of its return to power.

But the facts are the Democratic party had nothing to do with the good times of their administration, save in this important exception that the federal reserve banking system operated as a great steady influence through the critical strains that were placed upon credit. The tremendous prosperity of recent years was due primarily to the World war, which set up a demand upon this country for products of every kind that could not be met. Economic causes have been at work constantly, and they will continue to work either favorably or unfavorably in spite of all that the new Republican administration can do.

Just now these economic forces are at work: The export situation is in bad shape, because the purchasing power of Europe has been reduced almost to the vanishing point. Although Europe's material requirements are only meagerly satisfied, she has little cash and her credit has been stretched almost to the breaking point. In this country domestic demand has fallen off because the people could not or would not absorb production at the prevailing high prices. Obedience to economic laws can alone remedy this condition. It is an industrial and business and not a political problem.

With world production tremendously impaired by the ravages of a war which took away something like 10,000,000 producers and crippled millions of others, and America the great storehouse from which the needs of suffering humanity can and should be supplied, there is no reason why we should not enjoy solid prosperity for years to come. There is no doubt but what the situation would have been improved, in a foreign sense, had the United States stood with the allies in making prompt peace and in entering on some basis the League of Nations, which has important economic provisions relating vitally to reconstruction and the rehabilitation of devastated Europe. From the political controversy which peace-making provoked the United States in common with Europe is undoubtedly suffering.

Perhaps the new administration will be able to set natural economic forces at work along freer and better controlled channels, but it can do nothing to alter the essential facts which exist. Artificial measures will accomplish little and will produce only disaster in the end. There is the possibility of another serious collision between employer and employee, as movements for the open shop and reduced wages come into view. The problem is one which only broad-gauged industrial and business sagacity, wise regulation of credit, resourceful fiscal administration and sound governmental policies can solve, and then solely by taking into proper account economic forces which at bottom are the controlling factor. At present there seems to be a disposition, fostered by some politicians, to disregard the economic forces.

ARMISTICE DAY

What has become of the old-fashioned man (and woman) who celebrated Armistice Day by blowing a raucous horn for seven consecutive hours and musing up the streets with waste paper?

Surely he must be old-fashioned, for it seems long ago since he (and we) were guilty of such childishness in celebration of what we conceived to be the greatest event of history—the winning of the World war.

Not that we are particularly blame-worthy. Rather, that is the pity of it. Why is man so constituted that he has no adequate vent for his largest emotions? Or why is he not so cultivated that he can find such an outlet?

Doubtless at such a time, we all felt the impulse to shout. We felt the inner desire to leap and dance and give expression to our joy in some beautiful figure of physical rhythm. We wanted to exclaim in the sonorous language of the Hebrew prophets, the organ voice of Milton or the grand chant of Shakespeare's verse.

But we were chained by the limitations of our commercial, work-a-day existence, which had had no training in expression. And so we formed little lock-step parades, we hallooed a little, we rang bells and blew penny whistles and made all sorts of discordant and unmeaning noises and we made as much muss for the street-cleaners as possible. And some partook of strong drink to stimulate their enthusiasm. (This was back in 1918.)

And we were all a little ashamed of it, and a little rebellious that we had never been taught to express ourselves.

Our observance of Armistice Day is shallow and unbefitting the occasion. We have not yet come to honor the men who fought in the world war as we should. Doubtless in due time Armistice Day will, as it should, be made a legal holiday. When that is done we shall give better attention to its observance, and doubtless from expression of national sentiment more appropriate to the great event it is intended to celebrate.

THE STRANGER

"I was raised in dear old Boston,"
Said the Stranger, old and scared,
As he stroked the wintry frost on
His perambulating beard.

"I was raised in old Chicago,"
And his brows were closer knit,
"Where I saw Booth play Lago,
And I also played my bit."

"I was raised in old St. Louis,"
Said the Stranger, with a sigh,
"Ere I sailed the seas with Dewey,
Ere my cup of life ran dry."

"I was raised in old Seattle,"
And he reached a trembling hand,
"Where the warring waves bring battle
To the parapets of sand."

"I was raised, and I am crumpled,
Yet this one last boast I claim:
I'm beaten, I am humbled,
But I always played the game!"

As he spoke, a tear to dim it,
As once more the Stranger spoke,
"I was raised—was raised the limit!
Can't you help a guy who's broke?"

HONEST SWEAT

An adult, clothed, excretes from one to three quarts of sweat daily. He need not be ashamed of it. It is done in our best families.

The sweat is very thin (specific gravity about 1004) and is normally alkaline. The composition of the sweat is insignificant—it is practically nothing else than water. Traces of many different organic constituents have been found in sweat, such as urea, uric acid, indican and other ethereal sulphates of phenol and skatol, creatinin, oxyaminopropionin and a lot of ugly little things like that, but not nearly as many as in the sweat of a cow. A man who sweats nineteen million eight hundred thousand bacteria a day is not a very clean person. Another man altogether is an authority on sweat and sweating. He asserts that special nerves control the sweat glands, and impulses acting on the glands through such nerves would account for sweating from emotion, various medicines and nausea. The ordinary cause of profuse sweating is high external temperature or muscular exercise.

The purpose of sweating is body cooling, not the elimination of poisonous matter.

The amount of organic matter or possibly poisonous waste matter present in the sweat is too minute to merit serious consideration. Such ill effects as have been produced by painting the animal or human body with impervious substances are due to interference with cooling, not to the retention of any constituent of the sweat. There is no harm to be feared from stopping the sweating of a local area, such as the feet or the armpits.

The sweat has much to do with the condition of the skin. An active state of the sweat glands insures a pliability and softness of the skin; if sweating is insufficient the skin is likely to be dry and harsh, as in the condition known as ichthyosis (fish-skin disease) and in milder cases of the same trouble frequently seen about the elbows and arms of young women who are fond of soap but hate exercise.

A thousand and one remedies are employed for excessive sweating. For the armpits nothing is better than a mopping each day for three or four successive days with this solution:

Aluminum chloride . . . . . 1/2 oz.
Distilled water . . . . . 3 ozs.
This should be allowed to dry on the skin before dressing. It may be repeated when required. Aluminum chloride is a standard chemical which any druggist can supply if he cares to accommodate a customer.

For overcoming excessive sweating of the feet, perhaps the best agent is:
Solution of Formaldehyde (F. S. P.) . . . . . 1 oz.
Water . . . . . 1/2 pint
(Formaldehyde is an irritant poison.)
The feet should be bathed with cold water only, and as rarely as possible. Apply the formaldehyde solution to the soles and between the toes, and allow to dry. Repeat this daily for several days. In some cases the amount of formaldehyde solution in the formula may be doubled, if it does not produce too much irritation.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Peanut Butter

I am very fond of peanut butter and eat it daily. Please tell me the good and bad qualities of this food. (E. K.)

ANSWER—It is very nutritious, wholesome and digestible. I know no bad qualities.

Saginaw Kid

You said you wanted kids to write, so here I am, a Saginaw kid. The lady across the way doesn't let her kids drink coffee but she told her that she thought one cup of coffee with cream wouldn't hurt us. But she said cream in coffee was like leather. Is it? (over) Does cutting the eyelashes make them grow? Well I am much obliged to you for agreeing that it's all right for kids to go swimming. And say, if you can't have girls' wheels is it all right to ride your brother's, without people calling you a tomboy. Yours truly, (S. I. C.)

ANSWER—The lady across the way was right. Boys and girls under sixteen years of age certainly should not drink tea or coffee. Milk is the stuff that makes boys and girls healthy. Cutting the eyelashes doesn't make them grow. You're welcome to my advice that it is all right for kids to go swimming. Don't cheer, girls, but let us pity the poor old fashioned souls who imagine it is "tomboy" to ride brother's bike.

Aladdin's Lamp

"Rotten stuff," said the French foreign office.

Work As A Cure.

By Frederic J. Haskin

Washington, D. C.—Patients in 45 Government hospitals are having work prescribed for them for curative purposes.

The ward doctor making his rounds stops at the bed of a man recovering from a broken arm:

"A little stiff," comments the doctor. "Need something to loosen you up." And he pulls out a large blank, and checks it in various places so that it prescribes one hour a day of light crafts work in the ward, as a therapeutic measure.

The blank is turned over to a Reconstruction Aide, who proceeds diplomatically to find out if the patient has any interest in weaving, drawing, basketry, or wood-carving. If he is apathetic, she tries to arouse his interest gradually, without making him feel that he is being forced. Usually cases of extreme depression can be roused and benefited by hand work of some sort or another.

At first many doctors in the hospitals were skeptical of the physical good to be derived from pounding with a hammer or designing a book cover. But confronted with statistics from their own hospitals and seeing the effect on the patients in their care, the government physicians have nearly all been converted to a firm belief in Occupational Therapy.

This method of treatment doubtless reminds you of the work done in the Army hospitals, by Reconstruction Aides, and is an outgrowth of that, though different in many ways. The idea started years ago, when some hospitals and similar institutions had convalescent patients do light work, as much for a help to the institution as for the exercise it gave the patient. Then, some 15 years before the war, two or three civilian hospitals observed trained workers who could teach patients handicraft to employ their minds, and perhaps keep their muscles from getting stiff from idleness.

Grew Out of War

There the matter stayed until during the war it became an institution in the Army and Navy hospitals as educational and reconstructive work with the idea of giving mutilated men some new interest and useful occupation. But at this time, there was no definite system developed showing the relative curative values of the different types of work.

This is being worked out now in the hospitals of the Public Health Service, and the surgeons in charge say that they are just beginning to see the possibilities of work as therapy.

Adaptation of the work to the individual is extremely important, according to Dr. Hugh S. Cumming, Surgeon General. He is guided in selection by the active tubercular patient may be attracted by heavier work than is considered to be beneficial, such as carpentry.

Basket work with large reeds often fits in well with excitable mental cases. A simple pattern with no complications of elaborate design or unusual shape is given them, because the monotony of weaving is sound and round without much need for thought, has a quieting effect, on the other hand, a more active patient, on the other hand, may be given "reed work," as it is called, which requires considerable effort. But he can make intricate designs in raffia basketry, as this type of work keeps the mind fully occupied, but does not require very great exertion on the part of the patient.

These are crude classifications, and the doctors are well aware of it. As time goes on, however, they expect to study the causes in more detail, in order to know more accurately the value of motion and effort used in the crafts and in different kinds of garden work.

A Mental Help

Dr. Magdick explains that the curative influence of a suitable occupation is more often mental than physical.

"There are nearly always in a hospital," he says, "a few patients who are inclined to argue about everything. If you can set one of these men to follow your instructions in folding a paper puzzle, or in throwing a needle, you have got him to take order, and he will be that much more tractable when it comes to matters of medicine and diet."

"Then, many hospital patients become depressed and morbid from lying idle during a long convalescence. For one of these gloomy patients who is able to get about, the doctor would prescribe some kind of work to be taken in the hospital workshop. At first, perhaps, the patient is only wheeled down to the shop to watch the other men at work, as a diversion. Then, he is drawn into the conversation of the whistling, joking workmen, and in a few days he is at work, and one of them."

In the year, in which the Public Health Service has been giving this kind of treatment, it has found the effect on morale to be no small part of the value of the work done.

The Public Health Service has in its charge all the ex-soldiers who need treatment for physical disability. When these men were in the Army hospitals, they were under orders and could not go home or back to camp until discharged by the surgeon. Now, the men in care of the Public Health Service are civilians, and have the right of civilians to leave the hospital even against the doctor's advice (that is, unless they are mental patients).

Some of the men have been leaving sooner than they should because they are tired of the monotony of hospital life, or because they thought they could improve as rapidly at home or even at work. "Something to do" in these cases has proved a valuable first aid toward keeping them contented.

Work Makes Men Contented

In one hospital, it is reported, where there were 392 men, 263 were taking Occupational Therapy, and 129 were not. Of the 263 only two left the hospital before they were discharged by the medical officer, while of the other 129 83 either deserted or left the hospital against the advice of the physicians. Of course, it is not fair to say from this that Occupational Therapy held 263 of these men, or that the 83 would have stayed if they had taken it. But the records sent in each week from the Public Health Service hospitals tell an unvarnished story of increasing interest on the part of the men who have a chance to try the work cure.

Over 3,000 patients, or about one-third of those in 45 Government hospitals, are taking Occupational Therapy now under the supervision of 250 Reconstruction Aides, and a few technicians. There are six more Public Health Service hospitals which have not started the treatment, because competent aides are scarce, and the Government is taking no others. Its regulations demand that to be an aide a woman must be a graduate of a college or a normal or art school, and she must be an experienced teacher of arts and crafts, or of academic and commercial subjects, or in case applicants are not able to show graduation from an institution of recognized standing, they must show three years' training, including at least 200 hours' training in the type of work they expect to do in Service hospitals. Applicants with these qualifications have been hard to get, but now that Occupational Therapy is on the road to becoming a recognized institution in the hospitals, girls are looking upon it as the "in" thing to do.

The Teachers' College of Columbia University and Milwaukee-Dawson College recognize Occupational Therapy as a major course, and some hospital training schools, are giving courses to fit girls for this sort of work. The Public Health Service believes that eventually the work cure with competent aides and simple equipment will be a part of the plan in every progressive hospital.

One point which is in every way important is the disposal of the articles made by patients. According to the present arrangement in the Public Health hospitals when a patient makes two articles one is claimed by the Government and the other is his to sell or to keep. By turning one back to the hospital to be sold, the workman pays for the material given him. The work cure is not primarily commercial, yet the sale of some of the crafts-work is desirable if only because of the psychological effect on the patients. A ready market for the hospital work has not yet been established, though it is believed that there is a demand for a good grade of beautiful crafts-work, and many of the hand-carved boxes, woven table runners, and Indian baskets made in the hospitals are beautiful. One connoisseur in Indian relics was strongly impressed by the excellence of the raffa baskets copied by patients from good Indian designs.

THE QUESTION BOX

The Bureau cannot give advice on legal, medical, and financial matters. It does not attempt to settle domestic troubles, nor undertake exhaustive research on any subject. Q. Will you give a recipe for apple butter as soon as possible? D. R. H.

A. The Department of Agriculture recommends that you measure the apples, wash, slice into small pieces, and for each bushel of apples add four gallons of water; boil until fruit is soft and put through fruit press or rub through a sieve. To the pulp of each bushel of apples add two gallons of cider that has been boiled down to half its original volume. Bring to a boil and add 12 pounds of sugar. Cook until almost of the desired consistency, add spices, cinnamon and cloves to taste. When the butter is thick, desired, place in hot containers and seal immediately.

Q. I am curious to know if glass disintegrates when buried in the ground. K. H.

A. The Bureau of Standards says that glass would slowly disintegrate when buried in moist soil. The action on the glass would be due primarily to water and alkali. The disintegrating action would vary with the composition or character of the glass and the conditions that obtained in the soil. This action would probably be centuries before some glasses would be extremely slow with any glasses. And it would probably be centuries before some glasses would be completely disintegrated.

Q. Is it true that, if a soldier desert the Military Service of the United States and remains in the country two years after the expiration of his enlistment he may apply for a deserter's release? W. A. T.

A. The War Department says that the period necessary for a deserter to be absolved of punishment is five and not two years after the expiration of his enlistment.

Q. Tell me the best way to keep nuts from drying after they have been shucked. L. G. R.

A. Nuts should be kept in a cool dry place. By covering them with clean dry sand they may be kept fresh and plump all winter.

Q. What has been done with all the hospital bandages prepared for the war, but not used? H. B. E.

A. The War Department says that a million dozen roller and more than two million compressed bandages, together with two million and a quarter one-ounce packages of absorbent cotton have been disposed of recently, the sale netting more than $1,000,000.

Q. What are the books of the Apocrypha? C. T. R.

A. The Apocrypha consists of Esdras, Esther, Book of Wisdom, Ecclesiastes, Baruch, Daniel, Prayer of Manasses, Tobit, Judith, and Macabees.

Q. When is the harvest moon, and when is the hunter's moon? N. P. M.

A. The September full moon is called the Harvest Moon, while October full moon is called the Hunter's Moon.

'TAKE IT FROM ME' IS SPLENDID SHOW

Immense Audience Sees Premier Musical Production at Theater.

One of the largest crowds in the history of Appleton theatre saw one of the finest musical shows ever presented here when "Take It From Me" drove away dull care with its laughable lines and lilting melodies Wednesday evening. Every seat in the big playhouse was sold and standing room was at a premium long before the curtain went up.

"Take It From Me" is not distinctive for its extraordinary situations, its music, its dancing or its lines, but taken all together it is one of the best balanced shows on the road.

Many an Appleton man has an ache in his pocketbook as he watched the display of gowns in the fashion show. The exhibit of fancy dresses was one of the finest ever seen here.

Edgar Gardiner, as Tom Eggert, around whose financial difficulties the plot was built, is not wonderful as an actor, but he is a splendid dancer. He appeared with Arline Gardiner in several dance numbers which were far above the ordinary.

John E. Hennings, as Vernon Van Dyke, and Richard Mack, as Dick Roller, male comedians, never failed to evoke laughter. Van Dyke is an excellent dancer and Mack is the possessor of a splendid voice.

The feminine comedy was carried by Alice Hills, playing the role of Ella Abbott, a private secretary who experienced the start of one love affair in her life and loved to talk about it. Her work was splendid and kept the audience roaring whenever she appeared on the stage.

Majorie Sweet, as Queenie LaBelle,

PAINT CURBS RED TO WARN AUTOISTS

Drivers Who Violate Parking Rules Are Summoned to Police Station.

Some autoists do not believe in signs, and for that reason 45 have found a white tag dangling from their car with the word "Summons" in bold black letters.

These drivers appeared at the police station to be informed that they had parked their automobiles within the restricted zones, indicated by the red parking signs. Each case was recorded in a book and the offender was told to be careful lest he commit a second offense and be haled into court.

The street department has made the restricted territory more conspicuous by painting the curb red all along the places where cars are not to be parked. A driver who fails to see a parking sign will readily realize his violation of the regulations when he sees the red curb beside his machine.

Almost every downtown corner must be free from automobiles for a distance 10 to 20 feet back from the intersection, and no cars must be parked in the district from Midway to Soldier square on Oneida street, or from Washington to Franklin on Oneida.

Moose Ladies Party

Mrs. R. G. Zuehlke and Mrs. M. J. Gehm won the prizes at the Moose Ladies Tuesday Card party, at Casil Hall.

The vampire, ramped her audience as well as the "poor fool" on the stage. She was ably assisted by a group of vampiroettes who were much better looking than the average musical comedy chorus.

Sister Mary's Kitchen

Before washing handkerchiefs in the same suds with the rest of the clothes I like to put them in a solution of salt and water or just clear cold water for four minutes using a hand vacuum washer. It's a good plan to let the handkerchiefs stand in the water for 15 or 20 minutes.

This preliminary rinsing does two things. It makes the handkerchiefs pleasanter to handle and keeps them whiter. A handkerchief manages to get grimy looking very quickly and hot soap suds seems to set the black in the linen.

Menu for Tomorrow
BREAKFAST—Grapes, cereal with cop milk, cinnamon toast, coffee.
LUNCHEON—Vegetable soup, croutons, nut ginger bread, apple sauce, tea.
DINNER—Boiled halibut with egg sauce, shoe-string potatoes, baked tomatoes, fruit salad, crackers and cheese, coffee.

My Own recipes
Tomatoes may be easily and quickly baked without the extra work of stuffing and are quite as good for a change. Wash carefully and put in buttered muffin pans to bake. The skin will burst after a few minutes.

BOILED HALIBUT
1 thick slice halibut
salt
lemon juice
1 whole, small onion
Wash fish and tie in piece of cheese cloth. Cook in boiling salted water to which 2 tablespoons lemon juice has been added 25 or 30 minutes. The onion should not be cut in slices and should be put into the water when the fish is. When the fish is done remove to a hot platter and pour over sauce.

EGG SAUCE
3 tablespoons butter
2 tablespoons flour
1 1/2 cups water
1/4 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon pepper
1 egg (yolk)
2 hard-boiled eggs
Melt butter, stir in flour, salt and pepper and slowly add water, stirring constantly. Add yolk of egg well beaten and hard-boiled eggs cut in rather thick slices. Do not cook after adding yolk of egg.

Wheeler, chairman of the board of trustees, and Dr. H. E. Peabody, pastor. Both expressed the church's appreciation to the choir members for their part in the success of the church services. Musical numbers were furnished by Prof. Carl A. Waterman, choir director.

A program of games and other amusements concluded the entertainment.

Odd Fellow Initiation
Encampment 16, of the Independent Order of Odd Fellows, met Wednesday evening at Odd Fellow hall. The patriarchal degree was conferred. Visitors were present from Neenah and Menasha.

About 75 couples attended the dancing party given by the Women of the Mooseheart Legion Wednesday evening at Castle Hall. Punch was served.

POWER COMPANY PLANS ADDED RURAL SERVICE
La Crosse—Planning to build a steam plant in La Crosse four times the capacity of the present plant, the Wisconsin-Minnesota Light and Power company is making plans to extend its electric lines from this city to La Crosse and Jokaah, Minn., and to West Salem, Bangor and Sparta, Wis. Lines to furnish electric light and power to farmers will be built in various communities in western Wisconsin, wherever the volume of business offered warrants their construction, F. G. Felton, manager, said. The company plans to spend $500,000 in this locality extending its business and covering the territory served.

TONIGHT DANCE ARMORY G
Plans for the carrying on of character education in Wisconsin were outlined at the meeting, but nothing of a definite nature was done. The plans will be considered further at a meeting to be held December 4 at Oshkosh.

Other members of the committee present at the meeting were R. W. Fairchild, Fond du Lac; Prof. W. J. Mutch, Ripon; and Miss Francis Perkins, Fond du Lac.

HUNTERS PREPARE FOR DEER SHOOTING SEASON

The approach of the deer season which opens Sunday, Nov. 21 and continues for ten days, is causing an increased demand for hunters' licenses and deer tags. The latter have been moving very slowly until the last few days, and now they are making up for lost time. Appleton hunters are already making plans for their annual trip and the indications are that the woods will be filled with hunters this fall as never before.

Club Has Piano And Lamp; Now It Seeks Music
A piano lamp was donated to the Woman's club room Wednesday. The new lamp adds much to the attractiveness of the piano, but there seems to be another "fly in the ointment" in reference to that article of furniture. The sad part of it is this: The broad front expanse of that piano is totally devoid and innocent of its natural covering—sheet music. ## SCRUBS IN WAY OF DAIRY PROGRESS

Crawford County Agent Sees Way to Success in Dairying.

(Special to Post-Crescent.)
Merrill, Wis.—County Agent A. H. Cole sees a valuable object lesson in figures just issued by the Wisconsin cooperative crop reporting service, which show that while Crawford county cows on the average produce only 15.1 pounds of milk per day for a season of only 242 days in a year, Waukesha county cows on the average produce 20.3 pounds of milk per day for a season of 300 days per year.

Crawford county gets an average price of $2.56 per 100 pounds for its milk, while Waukesha gets $3.18. Specializing in dairying appears to be giving Waukesha county a better price for its milk.

Producers who are interested in seeing that their cows are producers are also interested in getting the best market price for their milk.

Waukesha county, with 39,356 milch cows, produced 7,624,266 in 1919 to 1919, while Marathon county, with 33,475 cows, produced nearly $500,000.

Lincoln county received $2.63 per 100 pounds for its milk, its cows produced 16.2 pounds of milk per day, for a season of 236 days and its 9,000 cows produced a product, the total value of which, at $2.63 per 100 pounds, was worth $1,232,380.

The lesson is that the scrub must go, and County Agent Cole urges the farmer to even give it away, as parting with anything but a selected pure bred animal will surely net the farmer with the best future returns.

Don't be lousy through life by a pesky corn or callus. Don't let a corn tell you when to sit down. Don't wear shoes too large for you because a corn says you must. Get rid of the darned thing.

It's a revelation to corn sufferers, the wonderful way that "Gets-It" banishes corns. Spend two minutes—that's all—to apply 2 or 3 drops to any corn or callus. The pain will stop instantly. In a few seconds the corn dries right up. Soon it has loosened so you can peel it off in one complete piece, root and all.

"Gets-It" is sold by all druggists; money back on request, costs but a trifle. Mfg. by E. Lawrence & Co., Chicago.

Sold in Appleton and recommended as the world's best corn remedy by F. G. Walker, Schlitz Bros., and Rufus C. Lowell.

Discoverer Tells Druggists Not to Take a Cent of Anyone's Money Unless Allenrhu Completely Banishes All Rheumatic Pains and Twinges.

Mr. James H. Allen suffered for years with rheumatism. Many times this terrible disease left him helpless and unable to work.

He finally decided, after years of ceaseless study, that no one can be free from rheumatism until the accumulated impurities, commonly called uric acid deposits, were dissolved in the joints and muscles and expelled from the body.

With this idea in mind he consulted physicians, made experiments and finally compounded a prescription that quickly and completely banished every sign and symptom of rheumatism from his system.

He freely gave his discovery to others who took it, and what might be called marvelous success. After years of urging he decided to let sufferers everywhere know about his discovery through the newspapers. Schlitz Brothers Company, Volgi's Drug Store, Union Pharmacy have been appointed agents for Allenrhu in this vicinity with the understanding that they will freely return the purchase money on the first two bottles to all who state they received no benefit.

Toothache Demons Working Overtime

Why Let 'Em Do It When Instant Relief Is at Hand.

"E-Z Tooth Filler" in the cavity will make them leave instantly.

"E-Z Tooth Filler" seems magical in its quick, certain stopping of the pain. You wouldn't believe that torture could give place to comfort so quickly, but you have to believe it when you're shown.

No matter how the pain bores and jumps and stabs and burns, a little of "E-Z Tooth Filler" in the cavity absolutely ENDS the toothache at once. It works so quickly that there is rarely any pain left by the time you get through putting "E-Z Tooth Filler" in the cavity.

"E-Z Tooth Filler" must not be confused with toothache drops, gum or wax, which bring only temporary relief. The most remarkable feature about "E-Z" is that it forms a filling, lasting often for weeks or months. Saves pain, time and dentist's bills.

"E-Z Tooth Filler" is for sale at your druggist's at 50c a bottle, or sent direct upon receipt of price by the Chas. A. Bertram Drug Co., 3471 Elston Ave., Chicago.

Over fifty years ago a young physician practiced widely in a rural district and became famous for his uniform success in the curing of disease. This was Dr. Pierce, who afterwards established himself in Buffalo, N. Y., and placed one of his prescriptions, which he called "Golden Medical Discovery," in the drug stores of the United States so that the public could easily obtain this very remarkable tonic, corrective and blood-maker. Dr. Pierce manufactured this "Discovery" from roots and barks—a corrective remedy, the ingredients of which nature had put in the fields and forests, for keeping us healthy.

Few folks or families now living have not at sometime or other used this "Golden Medical Discovery" for the stomach, liver and heart. Over twenty-four million bottles of this tonic and blood remedy have been sold in this country.

NEED EXTRA GUARDS FOR BANK ROBBERS

Winnebago County Sheriff Does Not Want to Be Held for Extra Expense.

Sheriff H. Peter Carlson of Winnebago county, who has the job of guarding the men who attempted to rob the South Side bank in that city a few weeks ago, doesn't like the idea of having to pay the expense of the extra guard required at the jail since these men were arrested. He has presented a bill for $275 to the county, the cost thus far incurred by the guard.

One of the men in the jail was arrested here two weeks ago while purchasing saws and guns to be used in an effort to liberate the other men. Appleton police had a prominent part in the arrest.

Sheriff Carlson said the extra guards are receiving $5 a day and board. The sheriff's letter to the county board said that "These men are undoubtedly desperate characters and have very bad records. I am satisfied that they would resort to any means to accomplish their escape. Your attention is called to the fact that one attempt to escape has already been made."

"I am presenting this bill in the belief that the county board of Winnebago county does not expect me to personally stand the very unusual and extraordinary expense made necessary by the presence of these men in the county jail."

To Preside at Meeting
John Showalter, Syracuse, N. Y., president of the Wisconsin Y. M. C. A. Older Boy's conference, is expected to preside at the annual conference of the association, which will meet at Madison, Nov. 26, 27 and 28. # MAY SUCCEED SAM GOMPERS

Matthew Woll

A. F. O. L. LEADER WILL SPEAK HERE

Mathew Woll, Slated to Succeed Gompers, Is Coming This Month.

Through the efforts of the talent committee for the Appleton Community Lecture and Artist Series a leading Labor Man was secured to give an address here. This lecture will be the second number of the series, on Tuesday, November 30.

"Organized Labor and Democracy" is the subject to be discussed. It will include a survey of organized labor's activity in the war and since that time, the new point and attitude of the American Trade Union Movement toward communism, socialism, syndicalism and the I. W. W.

Matthew Woll, eighth vice president of the American Federation of Labor and president of the International Photo-engravers' Union will be the speaker. Mr. Woll is a graduate of the Lake Forest University, Chicago Kent College of Law and has been a delegate to the American Federation of Labor Conventions since 1909.

Next to Samuel Gompers, Woll is regarded as the most brilliant mind in the ranks of the federation leaders. It has frequently been stated that Gompers is grooming Woll as his successor as president of the A. F. of L. when Gompers himself decides to retire.

The reserved seat sale for the entire series will start at the Y. M. C. A. at nine o'clock Friday morning. The plan will be as follows: Numbers will be distributed at nine o'clock. Then the numbers will be called and the number you hold will entitle you to that turn to reserve your seats. Do not come earlier than nine o'clock to reserve. It will give you no advantage. Each person will be entitled to reserve six seats and no more.

Dr. Naylor to Speak
Dr. Wilson S. Naylor will speak at the midweek service at the Methodist church Thursday evening. He will give an "Introduction to The Gospel of St. John." The previous study has been upon the "Life and Writings of St. John."

SEND DELEGATION TO CONFERENCES

Prominent Men and Women Will Feature Program of Meetings in Oshkosh.

A large delegation of Appleton young people will attend the annual Older Boys' and Girls' conferences at Oshkosh, Nov. 20, 27 and 28, under the auspices of the State Sunday School association. The principal speaker will be John L. Alexander of Chicago. He is recognized as the outstanding leader of work among the older boys and girls associations.

Miss Gertrude Neville will be the specialist in the girls' work. She is the advisor to the Kansas City Older council and was a leader in the great older girls' camp conference at Lake Geneva for several years. About thirty girls from the state will take part in the program of which Miss Mabel L. Bailey, superintendent of the educational department of the state Sunday school association will be the director.

One of the speakers at the boys' conference will be Ben "Baldy" Cregor of Centre College, Ky. That institution has one of the most talked of football teams in the country and "Baldy" has been one of the mainstays of the team which gave Harvard such a scare. Cregor is scheduled to play with his team Thanksgiving day afternoon and to leave for Oshkosh immediately after the game. Allen Daxey, quarterback on the university of Wisconsin team, will also be present.

Dick Degerster, one of the leaders at the university of Wisconsin, will have charge of the singing at the boys' conference. With a large number of people of that type, it is expected the conference will be one of the real snappy events of the season.

Alvin Libergen, who suffered a serious injury to his skull Monday morning at the Thibault mill, Kaukauna, is reported to be making rapid progress toward recovery.

Home-made Remedy Stops Coughs Quickly
The best cough medicine you ever used. A family remedy easily and quickly made. Saves about $2.

You might be surprised to know that the best thing you can use for a severe cough is a remedy which is easily prepared at home in just a few moments. It's cheap, but for prompt results it beats anything else you ever tried. Usually stops the ordinary cough or chest cold in 24 hours. Tastes pleasant, too—children like it—and it is pure and good.

Four 2½ ounces of Pinex in a pint bottle then fill it up with plain granulated sugar syrup. Or use clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup, instead of sugar syrup, if desired. Thus you make a full pint—a family supply—but costing no more than a small bottle of ready-made cough syrup.

And as a cough medicine, there is really nothing better to be had at any price. It goes right to the spot and gives quick, lasting relief. It promptly heals the inflamed membranes that line the throat and air passages, stops the annoying throat tickle, loosens the phlegm, and soon your cough stops entirely. Splendid for bronchitis, croup, hoarseness and bronchial asthma.

Pinex is a highly concentrated compound of Norway pine extract, famous for healing the membranes. To avoid disappointment ask your druggist for "2½ ounces of Pinex" with directions and don't accept anything else. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money refunded. The Pinex Co., Ft. # OCTOBER WEATHER BOOMS CORN CROP

Crop Report Indicates Increase of 10,000,000 Bushels Last Month.

By United Press Leased Wire
Madison, Wis.—Nearly 10,000,000 bushels of corn were added to the Wisconsin crop during October, states Joseph A. Becker, of the Wisconsin cooperative crop reporting service in his November report.

Frost held off until nearly the close of the month, while high temperatures and occasional rain gave the crop a splendid opportunity to mature.

Total production and yield per acre are both the second largest in the history of the state. Average yield is estimated at 44.0 bushels per acre, compared to 38.7 interpolated from condition on Oct. 1. 47.0 bushels in 1919 and a ten year average of 35.4. Production is estimated at 81,684,000 bushels, compared to the 1919 record crop of 85,471,000 and a five year average (1914—1918) of 56,494,000.

Quality is estimated at 91 per cent of a high medium grade, compared to 96 a year ago and a ten year average of 79.

Approximately 2,300,000 bushels, or 2.7 per cent of the 1919 crop remained on farms on Nov. 1, compared to 904,000 a year ago.

An increase of nearly $90,000 pounds of tobacco resulted from the favorable weather of October. Production is estimated at 63,210,000 pounds, compared to 62,426,000 forecasted on October 1. 61,069,000 produced in 1919 and a five year average of 51,468,000.

Average yield per acre is estimated at 1,230 pounds, compared to 1,270 last year and a ten year average of 1,172.

Members and their friends enjoyed dancing until a late hour and the visitors were then entertained at luncheon.

Much optimism was shown by the yeomen when the committee reports were read at the business meeting. The members were divided into groups for a membership contest which will be launched immediately.

Among the officials in attendance were Elmer E. Smith, Oshkosh, state manager; Walter J. Vollemer, Des Moines, Iowa, special auditor; Krunk Knapp, Green Bay, district manager, and Frank Wickert, Jr., Fond du Lac.

Mrs. D. O. Kinsman, John street, left Thursday afternoon for Manitowoc.

URGES VETERANS TO GET PENSIONS

Captain Merkel Has Application Blanks for Spanish War Veterans.

"I expect that every man who served in the Spanish-American war will fill out an application blank for a pension under the new pension law," said Capt. George Merkel, who has just received a supply of blanks from Washington, D. C.

"The new law is so broad that it will cover practically all who saw service in that war, whether incapacitated in service or since, and I advise all veterans to fill out application blanks whether they belong to the C. O. E. or not," Capt. Merkel said.

It may be a year or two before the applications are considered and if a veteran is not incapacitated now he

Kozak, the "$10,000 Formula To Be Introduced In Appleton

Visitor Urges All to Fight Catarrh

"It is surprising what an immense number, among those residing in such cities as Appleton, are really suffering from this almost universal malady when they think something else is wrong," said Prof. Lunt, in discussing his extensive studies.

"Probably the most prevalent and distressing condition that affects men and women in such communities as this, is chronic catarrh of the mucous membranes. Catarrh of stomach and kidneys is the most frequent cause of dyspepsia and Bright's disease, and catarrhal conditions of the nose and throat lead to inevitable deafness. Show me a man whose hearing is affected and I will endeavor to show you a man who is suffering from catarrh. Frequently the lungs become diseased by the extension of a catarrhal inflammation by the way of the bronchial tubes to the lung substance."

"An offensive breath, discharges from the nose, droppings in the throat, constant sniffling, watery eyes, frequent sneezing, headaches, paining in the sides, pit of stomach and kidney regions, nervousness, depression of spirits, unsound digestion, sleeplessness and susceptibility to colds and coughs are characteristic symptoms. In Kozak, I believe we have discovered the greatest combatant against this distressing condition. Everywhere, former victims of catarrh, are singing the praises of Kozak, which will be explained to the public beginning Saturday at the Schilntz Bros. drug store, corner of College Ave. and Ovida St. Sample doses will be given free to the first 200 men and women.

Kozak, the Master Medicine, that is attracting such widespread comment in Chicago, Milwaukee, Cincinnati, and other large American cities, will be introduced to the public of Appleton beginning Saturday at Schilntz Brothers Drug Store, corner College Ave. and Ovida street.

This announcement was made last evening by the personal representative of Prof. G. A. Lunt, the Kozak Man, the visitor, a most cultured and affable gentleman, who was seen to excellent advantage when he said:

"Feeling that this thriving and progressive community should reap the same advantages as the larger American cities, we readily yielded to the earnest solicitations of a number of your prominent citizens and decided to conduct a special introduction of our famous formula, Kozak, in this city."

"If I have been successful with Kozak," he said, in discussing the tremendous demand for this medicine, "it is because the preparation has real merit. The herbs, roots and barks contained in Kozak are gathered from many remote sections of the globe. These medicinal elements are assembled in the rough in our laboratories, which are considered one of the largest and most modern of their kind in the world, and scientifically developed and compounded by expert chemists so as to obtain the high standard of efficiency that is shown by the uniform preparation, Kozak."

Prof. Lunt, through his personal representative H. J. Kabrine, announced that he would meet the public daily and evenings at Schilntz Bros. Drug Store, Appleton, Wis., beginning Saturday, to explain the merits of his famous formula, Kozak.

Now She Sings Doing Her Work

"She sings at her work now and is happy," says C. W. Bruckock, 458 Broadway, Milwaukee, bureau manager of the National Erectors' Association.

"My wife suffered from stomach trouble and nervousness for a long time. Friends recommended Kozak so I got her a bottle."

"Maybe you think it didn't help her. Yes sir, she's a changed woman. No more sick headaches or sleepless nights. Instead of feeling dull and languid most of the time as of old, she goes about her housework singing and humming. I notice that her appetite's much better and that her food digests right. She used to complain of gas-trills and a sickish feeling after eating but never says anything about it since she took Kozak."

"Her nerves are much quieter and she never feels 'blue' and depressed any more. Kozak has brought real joy to our home and I can't say too much in its favor."

OSHKOSH LADY JUBILANT

"I was a sufferer from catarrh of the head," said Mrs. Lillian Johnson, 81 Otter St., Oshkosh. "The ringing in my ears was terribly annoying. My eyes would always water and often ache me. I never felt exactly well until I heard so many people here praise this Kozak and finally got a bottle myself."

"Kozak relieved me of catarrh. Right from the first few doses of this wonderful remedy I began to notice a difference. Now I feel fully relieved and heartily recommend it to anyone suffering as I once did."

Plenty To Eat In Germany But No Money To Pay For It

Appleton Man, Back From Europe, Describes Conditions in Germany.

"I found that the war demoralized the people who are half fed and half clothed," said Edward Hussner, who has just returned from a two months' trip to Thuringen, Germany, his old home, which he had not visited in twenty five years. "The people have deserted the churches since the war closed and the clergymen have found it impossible to get them back," he said.

Mr. Hussner says that the people residing in the interior districts are the people who are half fed and half clothed. At seasons they can get provisions of all kinds, but in the interior their principal food is oatmeal, cabbage and turnips. Rations are still issued by the government and some, which he had not visited in twenty five years. "The people have in the way of food he has to get his card at the police station. A family of five is allowed about a pound of meat a week, which costs 30 cents.

The starved condition of the people is due more to the lack of money than to the scarcity of food. The prices are not exorbitant but they are out of reach of the mass of the people. "Those who wish to assist their relatives should send them money instead of food," said Mr. Hussner. "As the food can be purchased there cheaper than it can be sent to them from the United States."

Mr. Hussner stated that practically all of the factories and mills are running but are operating on short time. The average workman receives about 50 cents a day, but only works three or four days a week. The government looks after the employment of the heads of families and assists them during their enforced idleness. When a factory needs a man the government sends the one that has been longest out of employment and the company employing him has no right to discharge him.

The climate of Thuringen, which is located near the Black Forest region, differs very little from that of Wisconsin. The crops this season were fairly good, but did not begin to meet the needs of the people. Clothing is much cheaper than in Wisconsin, but only

The wealthy can afford to go comfortably clad. Mr. Hussner had an overcoat made while at his home town that cost him only about one-third of what it would have cost him in Appleton.

Mr. Hussner has very little hopes of the people ever recovering from the effects of the war. Practically every family lost one or more of its members in the conflict. Very few men who entered the war at the beginning came out of it unscathed. Germany, as well as every other country, had many residents who profited by the war. Mr. Hussner's relatives consist of three sisters whom he found well and comfortably situated.

ANNUAL SCOUT COUNCIL MEETING ANNOUNCED

Notices announcing the annual meeting of the Appleton Boy Scout Council November 22 were sent out on Wednesday by E. R. Henderson, scout executive. Mr. Henderson plans to hold a demonstration of scouting for the benefit of the council members, following the business session. Election of council officers and presentation of annual reports will be the main features of the meeting.

Mrs. R. Holland of Chicago, is visiting friends in the city.

ARRANGE EXHIBIT OF APPLETON TOYS

Appleton Product Will Occupy Most Prominent Place in New York Show.

Appleton-made toys will occupy one of the most prominent exhibition booths at the American toy fair at New York February 1 to March 12, 1921, according to C. L. Wiggin, president and general manager of the Toy Company of America.

The company has contracted for the most conspicuous space in the red room of the Hotel Imperial, where the show is to be held. The first five floors of the hotel above the lobby will be used for the displays. The exhibition space will be in what is known as the beautiful lounging room designed by Stanford White.

Mr. Wiggin, Alois V. Adamec, toy designer and Fred F. Wetzel, an officer of the company, will probably attend the fair. All of the company's patented and copyrighted toys will be on display. It will probably be the most unique exhibit there, because the toys designed by Mr. Adamec, formerly connected with European factories, are original and entirely new to the American toy market.

The same artistic ability used by Mr. Adamec in his studio here, and in his plans and patterns, will be used in arranging the displays. The exhibition space will be opposite the entrance to the room, so it will be one of the first that greets the eyes of the buyer.

The American toy fair is open only to manufacturers of toys, and shows only American products. No jobbers are allowed to conduct displays. The fair is attended by thousands of jobbers, department store buyers and dealers.

Mr. Wiggin states that the company's toys are already becoming popular among the jobbers. Several toy experts have visited the plant within the last few weeks and have expressed admiration for the products the factory is turning out. Some have asked to contract for the entire output, but the company wants to retain its identity in the toy field and, therefore, declined.

Everything will be manufactured on a pre-war basis, with costs figured accordingly. Two artists have been engaged to assist Mr. Adamec in coloring the cut-out toys and fancy articles, and more are to be added as the factory gets further into production. The toys include airplane novelties, blackboards, wood cutouts of people and animals, fancy jewelry and candy boxes and many other novelties.

The company was originally capitalized at $25,000 when it was established last spring, but it is believed by Mr. Wiggin that this will have to be increased in the near future.

VAUDEVILLE ACTORS TRAVEL BY AUTO TRUCK

Mr. and Mrs. Reuben Ray and child, who closed a vaudeville engagement at the Appleton theater Tuesday evening, are covering their circuit by automobile. They have a commodious truck in which they ride and carry their baggage and stage paraphernalia.

The truck is also equipped with a calliope similar to the famous steam calliope of the circus. They usually draw a large crowd in every town where they stop. The calliope was out of order when the actors arrived here, so Appleton people were deprived of the usual concert.

The family used the truck for sleeping purposes in the summer, but is staying at hotels since the cold weather arrived, and use the vehicle only for convenience. They open a three day independent engagement at Kaukauna on Wednesday evening. From there they go to Brillion, and end their northward journey at Marinette. The schedule beyond the Marinette engagement carries them gradually southward into the warmer climate.

SCHOOL QUESTION TO BE DISCUSSED

Regional Conference at Chicago November 29 Will Review Situation.

The educational situation in the great lakes states will be discussed at a citizen's conference at the La Salle hotel, Chicago, November 29, according to notice received by the Appleton Chamber of Commerce. No definite arrangements have been made to send a representative from Appleton.

The conference is one of 12 regional gatherings, and embraces Wisconsin, Illinois, Indiana, Ohio and Michigan. It is called by P. P. Claxton, commissioner of education of the department of the interior, Washington, D. C. Needs of city schools, their more adequate support, sources of school revenues, extension of the work of the schools in the directions of business and society, problems of building and equipment, and such reorganization of the work of the schools as may be necessary for greater efficiency and economy in use of funds will be considered.

Mr. Claxton's letter explains that a national citizens' conference was held in Washington in May, to discuss the situation and recommend remedial legislation in the different states for better educational work. The conference voted to call another meeting in the fall, but the plan was later changed to a series of regional conferences.

Those who are invited to the conferences are governors, chief school officers of states, members of legislatures, state boards of education, county and city school superintendents or board of education members, representatives of universities, colleges, normal schools and members of governing boards of these, mayors of cities, members of city councils, chambers of commerce, Rotary and Kiwanis clubs, women's clubs and all patriotic and civic organizations, members of farmers' and labor unions, ministers, lawyers, editors and other publicists, business men and all others interested in educational progress.

"it's more like a Smoke!"

There you have Spur's big reason in a nutshell. It's what an American Legion man said after he had puffed a Spur for a moment or two.

He knew cigarettes. Found how comforting a good one is. Had 16 months in France. And he knew what he was talking about when he said:

"More Like a Smoke!"

That's because you can taste the good tobacco in Spurs. You get the aroma of a new and delicious blend of the finest leaf grown in Turkey, fine Burley and other home-grown tobacco.

Unmarred by starch because the seam is crimped not pasted.

Longer and sweeter in the smoking—slower in the burning. Fresh and fragrant as you open the pack, because it's triple-wrapped.

Priced to be popular and packaged to be select.

See for yourself—"more like a Smoke."

The Finest Pie Homes ever serve—Real Lemon Pie

The queen of pies is lemon pie, yet how rarely people serve it.

The home-made pie takes time and trouble, so lemon pie days come rather far apart.

Now the makers of Jiffy-Jell are making Jiffy-Pie. This is real lemon pie at its best, made to serve easily and quickly.

It comes in a package, almost ready-made. The sugar is there, the egg yolk, powdered milk, corn starch and tapioca.

The lemon essence—made from lemon peel—comes sealed in a glass bottle, so its freshness can't escape.

Add water, cook a little, and you have a lemon pie filler such as only few can make.

The users of Jiffy-Jell will know it must be right. That fruity dessert, with its flavors in vials, has won millions by its quality.

The same experts make this Jiffy-Pie. The same ideals are behind it. If you like one, you will like the other.

Learn this better way to make good lemon pie. The pies you make cost more than this. They take much time. And you have rare skill if you make an equal pie.

ANOTHER DROP IN PRICE OF WHEAT

Decline in Foreign Exchange and General Money Conditions Blamed.

By United Press Leased Wire
Chicago—The decline in grain quotations continued on the Chicago board of trade today. The largest loss was in wheat, while other grains followed. Decline in foreign exchange and the general money market situation was given as the main reason for the drop. While most quotations showed a slight gain at the opening, lack of buying power soon resulted in losses. Cold weather with snow in some spots, was reported over the grain belt. Provisions were higher. December wheat opened at $1.87, up 3/4, and later trading lost 5/4. March wheat was off 1/4 at the opening, $1.79 1/2, and before the close dropped 3/4. December corn was unchanged at the opening of 78 1/2, and later lost 3/4. May corn was also unchanged at the opening, 84, but dropped 1/4 before the close. December oats was up 1/4 at the opening, 50 1/2, and later lost 1/4. May oats opened 56 1/2, up 3/4, but before the close dropped 1/4.

GRID SQUADS ARE CLOSELY MATCHED

Illinois and Wisconsin clash at Madison on Saturday in one of the crucial games of the western season and a close analysis of the two eleven places them on about equal terms. The team which secures the breaks should win.

MINOR LEAGUES TO FIGHT FOR RIGHTS

Tall Grass Magnates Show No Particular Love for Major Leagues.

By J. F. Beaman
Kansas City, Mo.—The war cloud threatening major league baseball today had shifted from Kansas City to Chicago and the National association of Professional Baseball Clubs prepared to close its annual convention here under clear skies.

After being called to act as judge and jury in the case of divided factions of the big leagues, the minors were freed of peace making burdens by the agreement of the 16 American and National league club owners to confer informally in joint meeting in Chicago in the method of reorganization of baseball.

ATLANTIC CITY MAY GET CHAMPION BOUT

FANS WANT TO SEE HIGHS IN ACTION

Failure to Play Today is Disappointing to Football Followers.

Keen disappointment was expressed by football fans Wednesday when it was definitely decided that Appleton high school was not to engage in football battle on Armistice Day.

Saturday's game should be a real test of the high school's strength. St. John's Military academy is out of the high school class and on paper should be able to trounce the locals.

Do Things "Get On Your Nerves?"

If you feel nervous and irritable all the time and continually worry over trifles, there's something wrong. Don't give up; back of it all may be just weak kidneys. Just as nerve wear is a cause of kidney weakness, so is kidney trouble a cause of nervousness.

How an Appleton Woman Was Freed
Mrs. J. Roberts, 1170 Franklin St., says: "Toan's Kidney Pills have proven so satisfactory that I can recommend them highly. I had backache and my back was lame and sore and very painful. My kidneys acted irregularly and I became nervous and had headaches and dizzy spells. I got Doan's Kidney Pills at Lowell's Drug Store and they soon relieved me of the trouble."

again been an increase, both in the number and severity of accidents. The industrial commission believes that a large percentage of these accidents could have been prevented. There are many employers in the state who have cut their accident rates by more than one-half thru intensive safety work. There are other employers who for years have maintained a record of having less than one-half the number of accidents which the average employers in their line are having.

The Soil Robber

Is the renter a criminal? There are plenty of people who will tell you he is. They'll say he's a blight, a national menace, a land-losing lubber who is ruining the country. On the other hand, there are folk like William Johnson, whose searching article on tenantry is coming in an early issue of

The COUNTRY GENTLEMAN

He says it's time we were getting a correct view of this important question—and then he carefully outlines that correct view.

He shows how tenantry has become the only way to land ownership in these days when land is high. He shows that the tenant, on the average, is a farmer of ability, who is enriching the farm he hopes some day to own, not a soil robber who sees no further than immediate cash returns. You'll be interested in this splendid story—if not as a landlord or tenant then as a friend of good farming practices. And you'll be interested, too, in the many other articles on tenantry that will come to you in the next 52 weeks, along with sound guidance on every other farm problem and entertainment for the whole family—if you send me $1.00 today.

AMERICAN LEAGUE HAS NO CLAIM TO PLAYERS

By United Press Leased Wire
Chicago—Players of the three American league clubs that have joined the new National league organization cannot be held to the old American league, according to Alfred Austrian, attorney for the two major league clubs of Chicago, who aided in drafting the Lasker plan.

Austrian's opinion was in reference to a statement in which Ben Johnson, president of the American league, said the players of the seceding teams belonged to the league and that the three clubs could "take only their ball parks into the new league."

STILL PICKING TEAMS FOR VOLLEY BALL LEAGUE

The St. Paul Recreation club met Monday evening at St. Paul hall for their weekly volley ball matches. Team No. 1 defeated No. 2 in three straight games, and team No. 4 won two out of three from team No. 2.

The teams are not permanently organized as yet. New men are being played at every meeting so the line up of the teams cannot be given until later.

The captains of teams one, two, three and four respectively are H. King, W. Bell, H. Schneider and H. Rehlander.

Why Kokomo's White Tread Delivers Great Service

For a tire to live long, it must be able, at times, to stand high speeds, overload and rough roads.

Kokomos are superior in this regard because:

- the white tread is yielding and thus distributes the load over a wider area of fabric foundation, cutting down the heat at high speeds, and lessening the movement of the fabric when overloaded or when shocked by sharp objects or rough roads.
- this white tread, because it yields, withstands cutting and chipping.
- at the same time has high resistance to all wear.

That is why Kokomos deliver more miles.

Oh, Tom Is Quite Up On Shows

NOVEL FEATURES AT RED CROSS SHOW

Moving Pictures, Demonstrations and Comedy Will Feature Program.

Several novel features will accompany the Red Cross community show at the armory Saturday afternoon and evening. Children of the First ward school will present a Red Cross play. There will also be a first aid demonstration by the boy scouts, a nursing demonstration by Red Cross nurses, a moving picture and instructive and amusing "stunts" by Ho-Co and Repton, R. S. Box 36. Telephone 8531R2.

The exhibits will probably be a surprise to many who have not followed the varied work the Red Cross has done in Outagamie county since the war. The show is a culmination of the community survey taken last spring. It was directed by Miss Verma Blain, Chicago, in an effort to make Outagamie county take stock of itself in matters pertaining to health, family welfare, recreation, juvenile delinquency and social organization.

Facts and figures showing the county's standing in these departments of community life were collected. These reveal some eloquent health statistics which will be demonstrated at the armory. Each of the six survey committees will have an exhibit where their findings will be set forth on posters, either with illustrations or in graphic charts. A demonstration in charge of each exhibit will tell the story of the survey's work in that particular field.

There will be a state exhibit of Red Cross work. William Holm and Lawrence Loney will play the role of health clowns, and promise plenty of amusing antics. Lawrence, college band leader, will furnish music. Admission to the show will be absolutely free.

Thanksgiving Dinner To Cost As Much As Last Year

Appleton Merchants Aver There Has Been But Little Change in Prices.

If people of Appleton are expecting to get their Thanksgiving dinner cheaper than they did last year, they will be sadly disappointed. The price of commodities is nearly the same as last year. Some articles have gone down while others have gone up.

First, the main portion of a Thanksgiving dinner will cost practically the same as last year. The price of a turkey is 10 cents retail. Last year it was 10 cents. Some expect to get 50 cents a pound for turkeys this year, said L. Bon-Turkey, who is very scarce. I have been offering farmers 12 cents for them and I am unable to get a turkey.

"Turkeys are getting fewer every year," said Fred Peterson of the Peterson and Bohlen market. "They are hard to raise, and the farmers can't afford to bother with them."

Chickens will be plentiful, but they will sell for about the same as they did last year.

Fruit has gone very much higher. Oranges, lemons and grapefruit have all advanced in price. Apples, however, are slightly cheaper than

RAIL COMPANY FIGHTS SUBWAY AT 2ND AVENUE

Experts Declare Grade Crossing Is Not Especially Hazardous.

WOULD COST ABOUT $96,000

C. & N. W. Engineer Says Automatic Flagman Would Give Protection.

In his testimony before Samuel Bryan, examiner of the railroad commission of Wisconsin, in the Second avenue separation of grade hearing at the city hall Wednesday afternoon, W. J. Towne, of Chicago, chief engineer of the Northwestern Railway company, said that a subway would cost $96,000 and a viaduct $148,200 exclusive of property damage. He said that he made a careful estimate of each with material figured at its present price.

Mr. Towne stated that he had been an engineer for twenty years and that he was familiar with the crossing in question; that during that time he had frequently been called upon to determine whether or not a crossing was dangerous, and that he did not consider the Second avenue crossing unusually hazardous.

"Do you consider this crossing hazardous enough to consider either a subway or viaduct?" he was asked. He answered in the negative. "In arriving at that conclusion did you take into consideration the travel over that crossing and its relative location to the city of Appleton?" was the next question to which he replied in the affirmative.

Automatic Flagman

Mr. Towne claimed that much of the danger at the crossing could be eliminated by clearing away the shrubbery and obstructions and by the establishment of an automatic flagman. Later, he said that an automatic flagman would make the crossing safe in every respect. The examiner asked if there was anything at the crossing to interfere with the operation of an automatic signal and was informed that there was not. The witness said that everything was very favorable for the working of an automatic signal.

The examiner also inquired if the speed of trains going east was any greater or less than the speed of trains going in the opposite direction to which Mr. Towne replied that he didn't think there was very much difference for the trains all stopped at the station.

A. K. Ellis said that he was general superintendent and secretary and treasurer of the Wisconsin Traction, Light, Heat and Power company and had been connected with the company for twenty-two years; that as such superintendent he was familiar with the operating department and with Second avenue crossing which he did not consider extraordinarily dangerous. In regard to obstructions he said there were none back a distance of 400 feet, but coming closer there was a barn, house and trees.

Few Accidents There

Mr. Ellis was questioned as to the distance a street car could be seen at the crossing, height of a street car, how many times a day they passed over the crossing and how many accidents he could recall that had happened at that point to which he replied two during the fifteen years that part of the line has been in operation. One accident was caused by a pole sticking out of the rear of a wagon, and the other happened to a deaf and dumb boy who was riding a bicycle and got on the track.

The witness was shown "Exhibit A," a general view of the railway and street car tracks at the crossing, and his attention was called to the ordinance relating to the proposed subway. He was asked if his company had spent any money on improvements under this ordinance and in contemplation of the city carrying out its part of the agreement with the Traction company and said that it had, mentioning among other things the subway on Mason street.

City Attorney Theodore Berg inquired of the witness if his company was willing to complete the extension of its line at this time if the city of Appleton was willing to build the subway, which was answered affirmatively. The question was objected to by Attorney F. W. Grogan, attorney for the Traction company, as not being relative to the case. The examiner inquired of Mr. Ellis what percentage of interurban cars stopped at Second avenue crossing and was informed thirty percent.

C. B. Ballard, chairman of the town of Grand Chute, testified as to an agreement entered into nearly fifty years ago between his town and the city of Appleton in regard to the maintenance of the highway which

WANT STORES TO WORK TOGETHER

Chamber of Commerce Committee Lays Plans to Build Up Trade.

Appleton merchants appear to be on the threshold of an era of constructive cooperation that will bring more trade to Appleton, and incidentally more business to themselves.

The first notable indication of this action taken by the retail trades committee of the chamber of commerce at its meeting Tuesday to devise methods of cooperative advertising. A sub-committee was appointed by Chairman John Diderich to determine a definite plan for a joint sales campaign along lines that would be applicable to Appleton.

The committee will probably investigate the plans used in other cities, such as the recent harvest week in which all the Oshkosh merchants co-operated. A report will be submitted to the retail trades committee at its next meeting. Should a feasible plan be worked out, a general meeting of all the Appleton retailers may be called to consider it.

The committee also considered the apparent demand among the merchants for a credit rating system. They practically decided that Appleton ought to have one and appointed a sub-committee to investigate systems used in two or three other cities together with the cost of installing and maintenance. An office may be opened somewhere in the city for the use of the merchants if a satisfactory plan can be worked out. It will be run by an organization entirely independent of the chamber of commerce. Further discussion of the sales course that starts after the holidays was on the program. Progress in securing a suitable course and expert speakers was indicated by the reports of those in charge.

Albert Prasher, who was here on a month furlough from Camp Grant, returned Wednesday.

City Engineer O. P. Weisgerber resumed the stand after the noon recess and was followed by Alderman C. F. Smith who considered the crossing a dangerous one on account of obstructions. Alderman Smith was the final witness called by the city. The examiner requested the attorneys to file their briefs.

WANT STORES TO WORK TOGETHER

Chamber of Commerce Committee Lays Plans to Build Up Trade.

Appleton merchants appear to be on the threshold of an era of constructive cooperation that will bring more trade to Appleton, and incidentally more business to themselves.

The first notable indication of this action taken by the retail trades committee of the chamber of commerce at its meeting Tuesday to devise methods of cooperative advertising. A sub-committee was appointed by Chairman John Diderich to determine a definite plan for a joint sales campaign along lines that would be applicable to Appleton.

The committee will probably investigate the plans used in other cities, such as the recent harvest week in which all the Oshkosh merchants co-operated. A report will be submitted to the retail trades committee at its next meeting. Should a feasible plan be worked out, a general meeting of all the Appleton retailers may be called to consider it.

MEXICAN CHIEF PREVENTS STRIKE

Government Will Take Over Docks and Grant Workmen's Demands.

By Ralph H. Turner
By United Press Leased Wire

Mexico City—President De La Huerta acted promptly today to prevent a general strike in the federal district, voted last night amid cries of "Viva Russia."

The general strike was voted by the communistic federation of the Mexican proletariat, representing seventeen of the most important labor unions, in sympathy with Vera Cruz strikers.

Huerta announced the government will take over the Vera Cruz docks granting the stevedores' demand and operating the business until an agreement can be reached by the government, the workers and ship owners.

The general strike was to become effective if the stevedores did not obtain wage increases and working conditions demanded. It was believed many of the more conservative workers would refuse to walk out.

PROBE GRAFT IN SHIPPING BOARD

Hearing Results in Charges of Crookedness Against Employees.

New York—The congressional committee investigation operations of the United States shipping board had before it today several charges resulting from the testimony of witnesses at the opening of the hearing yesterday.

Among the charges were: Bribery of employees of the board by money or liquor; grafting by office employees in shipment of supplies for shipping board vessels; padding of payrolls by contractors doing work for the board; installation of defective machinery in shipping board vessels, resulting in them becoming disabled at sea; disposition of "salvage" materials to companies in which stock was offered to government officials; collusive bidding contractors.

Most of the testimony was introduced by A. M. Fisher, clerk of the committee, and J. Richardson, special investigator.

Sugar can be obtained in any amount here at from ten to twelve cents a pound; milk has fallen from 12 to 11 cents a quart in two months, and there has been a reduction of approximately 25 per cent in pork prices and 10 per cent in beef. GRANDMA NEVER LET HER HAIR GET GRAY

She Kept Her Locks Dark and Glossy, With Sage Tea and Sulphur

When you darken your hair with Sage Tea and Sulphur, no one can tell, because it's done so naturally, so evenly. Preparing this mixture, though, at home is messy and troublesome. At little cost you can buy at any drug store the ready-to-use preparation, improved by the addition of other ingredients called "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound." You just dampen—sp-rnge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning all gray hair disappears, and, after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully darkened, glossy and luxuriant.

Gray, faded hair, though no disgrace, is a sign of old age, and as we all desire a youthful and attractive appearance, get busy at once with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound and look years younger. adv.
